The Midwest Railway Preservation Society (MRPS) is a not-for-profit, all-volunteer organization dedicated to collecting, preserving, restoring, displaying, and operating railway equipment for the education and enjoyment of the public. Our ultimate goal is to save Cleveland's historic B&O Roundhouse site and keep it as a place where our region's great railroading past can be experienced and preserved for generations to come, along with our restored vintage railroad cars and locomotives.

In 2006-07, MRPS raised the funds (through contributions and loans) to stabilize the building's structure and keep it standing. Now we are working on some of the most critical safety and restoration steps needed to get the building open and functioning once more.

Our goal is to raise $200,000. Funds will be used on projects ranging from masonry/brickwork and utility repairs and upgrades, to installation of public-access facilities. While we are pursuing funding from corporations, foundations, and other sources, we also need the help of individual donors like you.

You can get involved by supporting us with a generous contribution today. Please know that 100% of your donation will be used toward repair, preservation and restoration costs. Thank you for helping however you can, and for doing your part to preserve a piece of Northeast Ohio's railroad legacy!
